They're just wunderbar

GERMANS are splitting their sides laughing . . . at a couple of Jews. For David and Avi Toubiana are the newest comedians on the country's slapstick circuit.

Their whodunit show Murder on the Panini Express is earning rave reviews. Theatre critic Johannes Boie wrote in the Jewish newspaper Juedische Allgemeine: "Everyone left the theatre in tears and with stomach aches."

Perhaps it's about time German Jews had something to laugh about.
